Dedicated to the

1948-1949 Squad

Trophies

"You can't be defeated if you won't be defeated." These words could be heard echoing and re-echoing within the halls of our beloved Alma Mater during the football season. These words typify the spirit of the team of 1949.

This team was undoubtedly one of the best teams our high school has ever produced. Not only was their record one to be proud of but their individual courage and determination was such that it evoked the praise of everyone, student, faculty member, and citizen alike.

The winning spirit of the entire squad permeated the student body in general, and the generous response kept that spirit at high fever throughout the season. A combination like that certainly is a great example of the motto noted above.

This spirit and determination faltered once or twice but always came back stronger than ever, which can be proved by the last game of the season when our team came from behind twice to win one of the most glorious victories of the season, about which everyone talked constantly for days and will remember for years to come.

Resting in the trophy cases, which contain symbols of glory of former B.H.S. athletes, are now to be seen several new and attractive trophies depicting the recognition our team so richly deserves.

In dedicating an annual, the class looks for outstanding contributions toward a better Beaver High School. In our search this year this was not hard to find, and so we, the class of 1949, are proud to dedicate our Shingas to

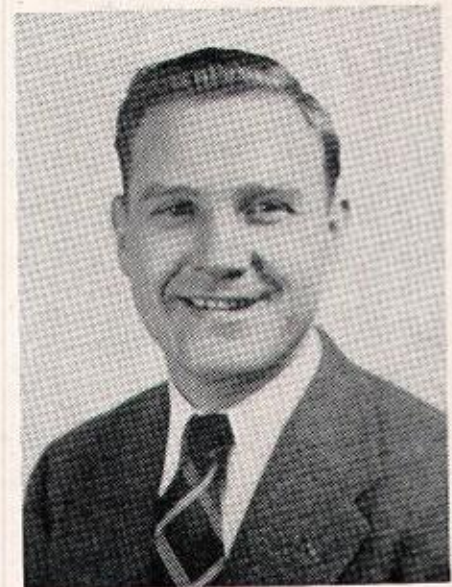

"The Football Team of the Year"

Instead of the usual article written by Dr. McCormick for this page, the class of '49 would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank him for his friendly advice, wise counsel, and great encouragement to us, individually and collectively, over the past years. We have felt that his interest in us was not just one of pure academic relationships but rather the warm personal feeling of one who is vitally concerned about our future.

May we, in this small way, express our sincere appreciation to him for this friendly interest all through high school and say that as we go out into life's multiple pathways we will feel safer and more secure as a result of his wisdom.

At the same time may we express our thanks to his secretary, Miss Isabella Kenah, for her expert handling of our accounts during our years in high school.

In the other office—that of the principal, we find another man to whom we owe our sincere thanks. Many are the times during our high school career that we contact Mr. Linn or are contacted by him over a thousand and one matters of little or great import. Ever one to chide us for some act of juvenile mischief, or to congratulate an individual or group on a special achievement, his central thought seems to be the betterment of the morale of students and teachers alike.

May we here express to him our thanks and appreciation for all his guidance, advice, and personal interest in our daily life in high school. His help has been a real inspiration to us.

To Mrs. Grove, we extend our sincere thanks for her many acts of kindness and consideration during our years in B. H. S.

Since the ninth grade has been added to the two other junior high school grades, and the Market Street building has been reopened for their use, the job of being principal of the junior high school has become a more responsible one. We feel however, that Mr. Edward Schaffer is capable of handling these duties, and handling them well.

Our class is familiar with Mr. Schaffer, as he became principal when we were just entering junior high, and he was our guide and teacher in many ways. We know that he has given, and will continue to give all his students wise council in the selection of their high school subjects leading toward their life's work.

The Senior Class wishes to express

thanks

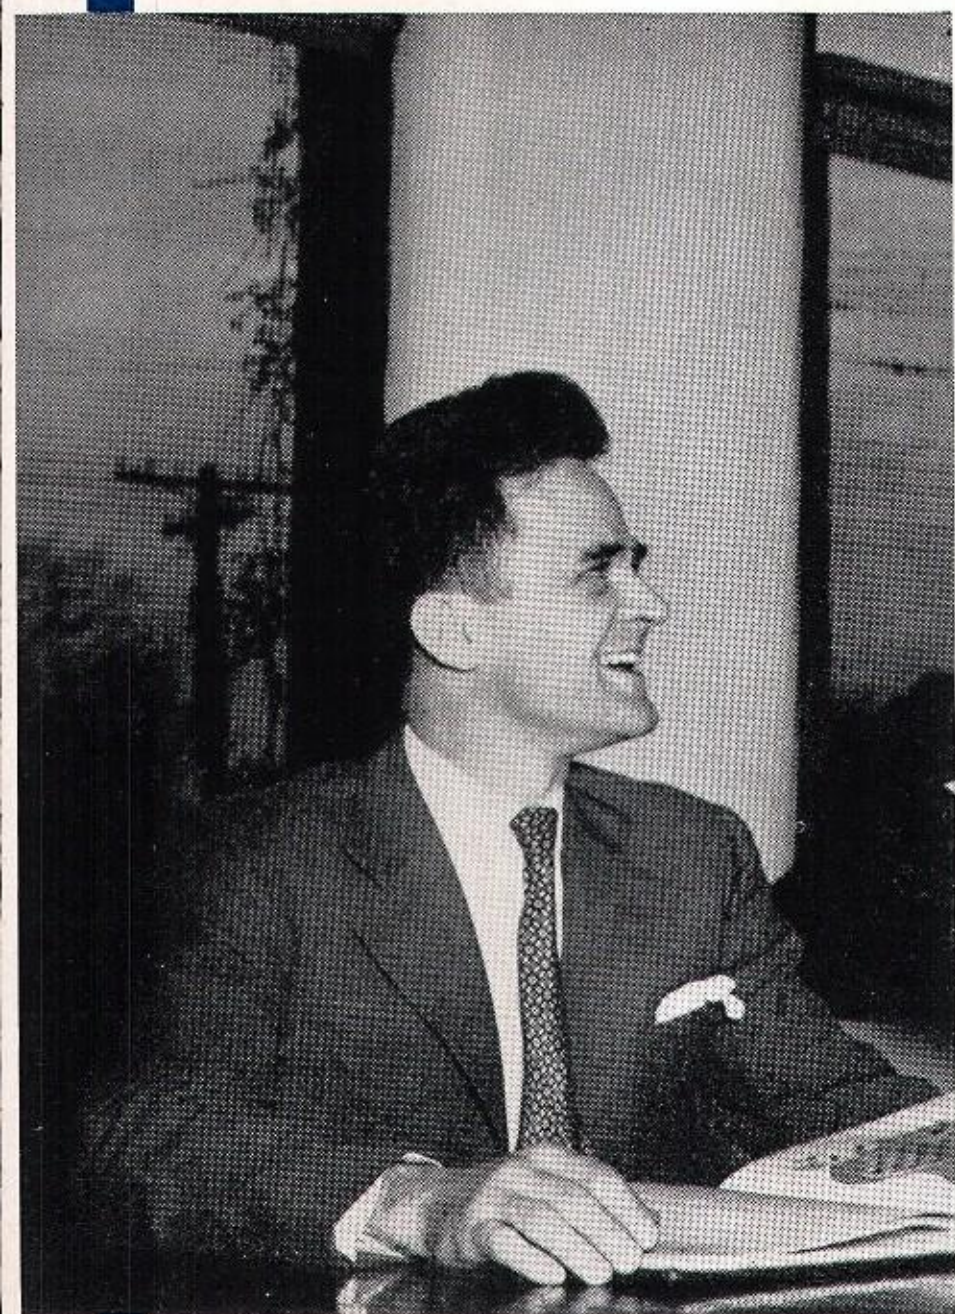

During four years in high school a class encounters many to whom it is indebted for various reasons. We recognize this and wish to express our thanks to all of them. There are two, however, to whom the senior class is especially grateful, our yearbook adviser, Mr. Paterick, and our class sponsor, Mr. Charlesworth.

Mr. Paterick has been "Shingas" adviser for ten years, his first book being that of 1940, and each year the book has become bigger and better, with a larger circulation. It is no easy job to produce a yearbook and, as he must work with an inexperienced staff each year, most of the work of organization falls on his shoulders. He must look forward each year to the next and plan contracts and budgets and such. It is mainly through his efforts that the book has survived war and prosperity and we hope it will always continue.

To Mr. Charlesworth goes our thanks for various things. It is he who sponsors the financial side of our class's activities. Through his original ideas and careful planning we have been able to underwrite the yearbook, pay all our bills promptly, in part finance our final banquet and dance, and perhaps have something left for a class memorial. He has also, as class sponsor, many other duties which he performs with diligence and understanding.

To these two, then, the senior class of 1949 wishes to express its deep appreciation for jobs well done, for help, counsel and guidance in the successful completion of our last and best year in Beaver High School.

The thrill that comes from walking through the front doors of B. H. S. as juniors was one of many that were to follow. Our first big money project, the magazine sale, added a large sum to the class treasury. The thrill of the opening curtain of the Junior Class play was one that will never be forgotten. The committees for the annual junior-senior prom worked for weeks to make it a success. Yes, the junior year brought many thrills that can be only surpassed by those of the senior.

As sophomores we were still considered the "babies" of the school and tried to prove to everyone that we weren't. One of our methods was to hunt up every club that was available to us and join hurriedly. The first big event was that of sponsoring the "Annual Football Dance." We'll always remember our bus trip to the wilds of Pittsburgh's zoo and the more refined cultures of the museum, planetarium and conservatory. We faced the coming year with the expectation of becoming upper classmen.

various activities; . . . the language clubs,

LATIN CLUB

For many years now, the machinery of the Latin Club has been in operation. It was originated for the purpose of furthering the knowledge of the Latin students concerning the Romans and their customs.

Until this year the membership of the club has been limited to second-year Latin students only. This year, however, the first year Latin students have been admitted to the meetings. This has enabled the club to hold even better and more interesting meetings.

During the past year, the Latin Club has held many worthwhile meetings and has worked on many interesting projects. Through these, the students have found that Latin is not only informative but entertaining as well. Among the various activities of the club were the Christmas cards which were designed and made by the club members, a Latin newspaper which was produced of, by, and for the club members, and a Roman play. Also, several parties were held which were appreciated and enjoyed by each and every member of the club. As a special feature at one of these parties, Mr. Johnson gave a talk about his experiences in Rome.

This year the president's chair was filled by Tom Waddell; vice-president, Sally Garvin; secretary, Dorothy Ammon, and treasurer, Sam Machall. Student advisor is Miss Fleck.

SPANISH CLUB

Should anyone unacquainted with the Spanish language venture into Room 104 during a Spanish Club meeting, he would probably find himself rather confused, for, as far as possible, these meetings are conducted in Spanish.

The South American aura of these meetings is unmistakable. Not only is the speech in Spanish, but posters and a colorful bulletin board also lend spice to the atmosphere. Various projects contributed by members of the club also adorn the room. These projects include dolls in gay Spanish garb and miniature houses complete with toothpick balconies.

The Christmas season was celebrated in a very entertaining manner. A pinata or gayly decorated bag was suspended from the ceiling. Each member then tried to break the bag with a stick. When it was finally broken, goodies for all were distributed. Christmas carols were then sung in Spanish while the refreshments were being served. These meetings were of a type that every club member enjoyed wholeheartedly.

Another interesting activity of the club this year was the correspondence with Spanish-speaking students in Spain, Mexico, and South America. In these letters, the club members introduced themselves and requested answers to their letters, written in Spanish, which proved to be very interesting as well as educational.

The club was directed by Miss Lawson with aid from the club's officers: president, Bob Moore; vice-president, Sally Jones; secretary, Lois Dyer, and treasurer, Barbara Moravec. This organization tends to give the Spanish student a better understanding of the language and customs of Spain and South America. Admittance is granted to students of both the first and second year Spanish classes.

"Open the window, Aunt Minnie!" Many times we have heard the great "Rosey" Rosewell use that expression during the days of summer baseball.

Many times during the school year the same expression may be heard in Room 213 when the Senior Science Club meets and our amateur chemists try out some new concoction.

Designed to supplement the regular class work in chemistry and physics, the Senior Science Club provides a time, a place, and an opportunity for members to do some work in experimentation that they would not have time to do otherwise, or to try out some new principle or idea.

All of the members participate in the meetings; this makes for both fun and interest. Unusual experiments, technical demonstrations, and original talks all keep the meetings moving along at a fast pace.

A selected committee, under the guidance of Mr. Nevin Reber, club sponsor, plans the program so that each will be educational as well as recreational. Officers of the club this year were: Donald Gardner, president; William Segmiller, vice-president; Susan Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Have you ever met an amoeba? If not, why not ramble up to room 215 one of these lovely afternoons and listen in on a S. A. N. S. Club meeting, where you will meet not only an amoeba but all its friends as well.

All students taking biology are eligible to join the club. The club's purpose is to apply to real life the knowledge obtained from books. Biology is actually the study of life, so the S. A. N. S. Club, as you can see, is a club with a huge topic in which to delve.

The Science and Nature Study Club, sponsored by Mr. Charlesworth, has done many interesting things this year. A visit to the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh was a high point of the activities. Other activities such as a visit to the Flower Show in Pittsburgh, movies of typical biological topics, hikes and many other things, were fun for everyone. All these activities have contributed to the better understanding of life in general; this should be an asset to the members of the club.

LEADERS CLUB

Eleven years ago in 1937, Mrs. Detzel, formerly Wilma Carnelly, started the Leaders Club. Due to the great success of this organization, it has continued to the present day. In the early spring each year, new leaders are selected by the senior leaders and the sponsor. They are chosen for their athletic ability, willingness to work with others, qualities in leadership, and mastery in all phases of physical education. Each year they are officially initiated. If you happen to pass the girls' dressing room and hear screams from within, you will know that the newly elected leaders, dressed in gym clothes, are being doused under the showers.

Many students wonder just what the Leaders Club is. The members perform such duties as taking roll, checking showers, helping to set up equipment, leading and helping the girls in all activities, demonstrating calisthenics, helping with the annual May day program, and assisting the physical education instructor whenever needed. These girls are identified by the traditional white gym suits in contrast with the usual green suits worn by the other gym students. Each year the girls attend a play day as a reward. This year they journeyed to Aliquippa for an eventful afternoon in the early part of October. We pay tribute to the Leaders Club for their efforts and faithful leadership.

G. A. A.

Many girls, eagerly participating in the games during soccer season, often heard the cry, "Let's get that ball up the field!" Soccer was played every evening behind the school with each team struggling to become champ. During the early part of the season, class teams were picked. Later on, the best players on the class teams were chosen to make up the Maroon and Gray teams.

As Soccer season began to draw to an end, plans were made for volleyball, the next sport to be played. Then we began to hear, "Keep it up in the air." Because of a great turnout for this sport, the girls brought their lunches and played during the noon hour.

Basketball, the most popular sport among the girls of B. H. S., was also played at noon and after school. There were always spectators to see the battle of the hardwood exhibited by the girls.

The G. A. A. girls thoroughly enjoyed the dance sponsored by the club and the skating party held during the year. In addition to these activities, the Beaver Falls G. A. A. club invited our club to a dance at the Beaver Falls High School gym in the early part of November.

Miss Wagner, the sponsor, along with her able assistants, the officers: President, Nancy Hansen; Vice President, Peggy McCune; Secretary, Josephine Guzzetti; and Treasurer, Carolyn Stephens, has made this year one of the most outstanding in the field of girls' sports.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

An important part of the vocational program in Beaver High School is the Home Economics courses. In our language it means "home making." The major purposes of these opportune courses are to train those especially interested in home making for the future. Several particular courses which the girls are offered are: buying, cooking, serving, sewing, good grooming, child care, entertaining, and various other phases of home life. In addition to regular class work, field trips are made to local points of interest.

Valuable experience was gained by all during the period of the high school evaluation. The girls served, at this time, two luncheons and a tea for the Middle States and Maryland High School Rating Association Committee.

During the Christmas season, the Home Economics club had a delightful tea to which the mothers of all members were invited. The tables were appropriately decorated in gay red and green, with pine and candles.

In February the club enjoyed an interesting talk by Mrs. Paul Jones on interior decorating.

Several times this past year demonstrations have been made by a representative of the gas company to further explain the uses and advantages of the gas range. A field trip to the Pittsburgh Heinz Factory was one outstanding feature that no one will forget.

All these activities explain the clang of dishes, the purr of the sewing machines, and the delicious aromas that fill the halls around room 208. Yes, the "Future Home Makers of America" are busy bees. Every member is diligently working for the advancement of this worthy organization under the guidance of Miss McKinley. The officers are: Annabelle English, president; Edna Peterson, vice president; Mary Lou Popp, secretary; Shirley Overholt, treasurer.

BOBCAT CLUB

On many a Saturday night, the gals and guys of B. H. S. have taken up their "Saturday evening posts" at the Bobcat Dances. The mellow music and gay atmosphere of these dances has attracted students for many years.

The club, which was organized in 1944 under the direction of Mr. Smith, has been supervised the last three years by Mr. Higbee.

The many students who attend these dances are proof enough of the widespread popularity of the Bobcat Club. For a very small fee, a ticket may be purchased which entitles the owner admission to each dance that is held. Music for dancing is furnished by the latest records and Coca-Cola is served at the coke bar.

One of the social highlights during the Christmas season was a semi-formal Bobcat dance. Much preparation was made for this dance, as was shown by the appearance of the gym. Christmas trees, with gaily winking lights, and a jolly Santa Claus, complete with reindeer and sleigh, were used as decorations. The music, which was furnished by Bill Springer's orchestra, added much to make an enjoyable evening for all.

The officers of the club have done a fine job and deserve much praise for making the dances successful. They are as follows: president, Dick Campbell; vice-president, Joyce O'Donnell; secretary, Keith Martin; treasurer, Betty Rhodes; and co-chairman, Patty Grant and Harold Roush.

work needed to produce our yearbook; all

SHINGAS STAFF

These added to the experience gained in high school.

Now that you are enjoying your copy of the 1949 "SHINGAS," we of the staff would like to explain some of the activities that go into the production of such a book.

Last year, even while we were enjoying "48's" book, Mr. Paterick, our adviser, was busy signing contracts, comparing prices, and making plans for this yearbook. In September, even before you were thinking about the "Shingas," Mr. Paterick chose the editor, Dolores Deku, and at a class meeting asked for letters of application. The task of choosing the staff was at hand.

After the staff was selected, work started in earnest. An assembly program was planned (can you ever forget LS/MFT?) to start sales, and capable salesmen, under the leadership of our circulation managers, Ruth Johnson and Kenny Young, sold the high school, junior high and business men over 700 books, thus topping the previous record of 682 books. The salesmen were: Mary Lou Popp, Tom McClure, Mary Ann Scheel, Bill Traynor, Patty Weigle, Bill Standley, Doris Tosh, Patty Grant, Patti Roosa, Russell Henry, Shirley Overholt, Ellen Murray, Rita Kistler, Mona Willoughby, Doris Skertic, Ann Miller, Dick Cameron, Lois Patterson, Bob Gifford, Charlene Akins, Robert Knott, Merilee Stout, and Isabell Holt.

About the last of September pictures were scheduled and, despite a mix up in the day scheduled, 55 pictures were taken. It was the job of the photography staff consisting of Dick Browne, Barbara Butcher, Donald Gardner, Joan Thornton, and Jeannine Brunner to originate ideas for placement of pictures and do the mounting. This was completed and we got our first shipment of pictures off to Jahn and Ollier, our engravers.

The writers started to get busy about this time, James Adams and David Haire, the sports writers, were busy with football season, while Nancy Hansen and Norma Jean Lanahan wrote about the girls' sports.

The music editor, Emily Engle; the club editors, Nancy Javens and Connie Craft; and the feature writers, Phil Glass, Sally Lou Jones, Sue Knight, and Jack Oakes; all started their articles and when these were handed in, the Literary Editors, Susan Anderson, Betsy Strother, and Patty Shiveley, started their proof reading, which was no easy job. When the articles were ready they were typed by either Mary Carol Amberson, Joanne Hartley, Laura Jo Hurst, Isabell Holt, or Joan McCoy.

While all this was going on, the art staff, Mary Brunot, Annabelle English, Donna Lou Hall, Dolly Merriman, Alice Ruth Stout, or Margaret Wheeler, was busy preparing sketches for the division pages.

Lois Dyer, our financial manager, was the one who kept the money straight and paid the bills.

This is just a sample of the hard work necessary to complete our annual. However, although it was a lot of hard work, we have also had satisfaction in seeing our work turned into something that will live forever in our hearts as well as recalling many fond memories of our days in Beaver High.

May we also, at this time, take this opportunity to express our thanks to any members of our class, our teachers, or anyone else who may have directly or indirectly helped us in the production of this book.

Each new issue of the "Echo" was eagerly received.

THE ECHO

As in the past, The Echo, our school newspaper, has served to acquaint its readers with happenings around and about the school. Since its establishment many years ago, each issue of the paper has been looked forward to with much eagerness.

Approximately once every two months an Echo was produced by the Journalism Class. Besides this, however, a smaller paper, the Echo-ette, made its appearance every now and then. Each paper contained editorials, fashion news, club news, sports, and the everlasting gossip column. Many other articles of interest were added to the paper in each copy.

In February, the Echo Staff sponsored its annual "Heart Hop." This dance has always been popular and this year was no exception. The gym was decorated in accordance with Valentine's Day. Dreamy music and tasty refreshments added to an evening enjoyed by all.

This year the Journalism Class took a trip to the Beaver Valley Times and were shown the mechanics of a newspaper office. The trip proved to be not only educational but pleasurable as well.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The student council is an elected organization consisting of members from each of the senior high school grades. They do various things to forward the welfare of the students and to represent them in various activities. This year the student council has been very active in selling refreshments at basketball games; in inspecting lockers to keep the pupils aware of the importance of neatness; in keeping the school campus clean and attractive; and in presenting problems of the students to the faculty and giving the response in a manner which the pupils will understand.

The officers of the student council are picked according to grades. The president is to be a senior; the vice president is to be from the junior class; and the secretary-treasurer is to be a sophomore. The capable officers this year are Robert Rogus, president; Gordon Milligan, vice president; and Mary Ellen Ketterer, secretary-treasurer.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL

The President's Council is one of the newer organizations in our high school. It was organized but a few years ago under the supervision of Dr. McCormick. The purpose of the council was, and is, to assemble certain students so that they might put forth their efforts for the betterment of the school.

The President's Council is just what the name implies. It is composed of the presidents and heads of the various classes and clubs. They more or less constitute, as a group, the opinions of the entire student body. At the time of the evaluation, they conferred with the evaluation committee and voiced many of these opinions. It is hoped that in the future the chief duty of the President's Council will be that of speaking with visitors to our school and giving them information about the function of the school.

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character" is the goal of the Tri-Hi-Y organization. The aim proves in itself that this service organization is extremely worthwhile. The majority of girls in Beaver High School belong to the organization and have found it not only educational but also full of good times.

Among the many activities in the past year, the Tri-Hi-Y Club presented a "Waistline" Dance at which those attending paid one cent for each inch of their waist measurement as admission. The profits from this dance went to the World Youth Fund, surely a credited cause. During the Christmas season, the club went caroling and as a Christmas present they sent canned foods to the Passavant Home in Rochester. After Christmas, the club sponsored an assembly at which time they had as a speaker an Episcopalian minister who gave a talk on "Turn Your Burdens Into Bridges." He was a most interesting speaker and was enjoyed by all. In February the girls had a "Hobo" Party as one of their meetings. Each girl came dressed like a hobo carrying her lunch tied in a handkerchief.

An item all members look forward to is the very attractive pins given to all those belonging to the club at least two years. In the past year the junior members received their pins and also those seniors who did not receive them previously.

Miss Campbell is the sponsor and under her guidance the officers of the past year have made the Tri-Hi-Y the respected club that it is. The officers are: president, Patty Grant; vice president, Mary Linn; chaplain, Susan Anderson; historian, Ellen Murray; public relations, Barbara Dowd; treasurer, Norma Jean Lanahan; assistant treasurer, Helen Schleiter; recording secretary, Nancy Didio; and corresponding secretary, Josephine Guzzetti.

The Tri-Hi-Y Club is a credit to our high school and every member should be proud of her membership. To have a specific goal to aim for helps to make for success and the Tri-Hi-Y Club helps one to pick a high and worthy goal.

May our praises ring loud in appreciation for the splendid music the girls' chorus has presented us this year.

They spent many practice periods in repeating some musical phrase over and over again until they had it perfect. When after practicing these phrases, the notes were turned into the theme of some well known melody, the girls felt that their untiring efforts had been well worth while. The girls did not limit their talents to one type of music but expanded their efforts to include such numbers as "Donkey Serenade," "O Blessed Jesus," and "Toyland."

The chorus boasted a membership of ninety-five, one of the largest choral groups in the history of Beaver High. Directed by Mr. Cornelius, the first sopranos, second sopranos, and altos all sang in lovely harmony.

The girls gave numerous outstanding performances this year. We felt more appreciative of the Christmas spirit after hearing their rendition of the Slovak carols at the Christmas assembly. They also deserve a great deal of credit for the effort put forth by them in the Spring Festival.

Too many of the students believe that belonging to the chorus is all play and no work. The members of the group know better for they, like any other organization, do their share in making our school the grand place that it is. People can always be happy and get along when they are busy and working together. Let us hope that next year's chorus will do as well as the girls did this year.

GLEE CLUB

There is no better music for our ears than hearing the harmonious voices of the Boys' Glee Club raised together in a beautiful melody. Little did we realize that their husky masculine voices could produce such fine, well-blended tones. The student body considered themselves well entertained after hearing a performance by the boys.

The music swelled to a magnificent peak at the Thanksgiving assembly and Spring Festival with the boys singing such numbers as "Blue Tail Fly," "The Prayer of Thanksgiving" and "Deep River."

The club, which is composed of sixty boys, practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays to achieve quality in their singing. The basses, baritones, and tenors all responded under the capable direction of Mr. Cornelius.

We should feel proud when we stop to consider that this is the first year in a long time that a very large male chorus has been formed with considerable success. It seemed that the boys finally discovered the enjoyment and fun in singing. They even arranged their repertoire to include a few of the grand classical pieces with some of the more modern folk music.

Boys of the Glee Club, you deserve our hearty congratulations for all you have accomplished this past year. Your songs will remain in our hearts for a long time to come. Ah, what would this world be without music!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Hear-ye! Hear-ye! Who are these? Some know—but do you? Well, we'll tell you about them. Over the period of their years in school, these have attained and fulfilled the role of the educated. What made them so? We think you all understand, for their aims and ambitions are the secret aims and ambitions of everyone.

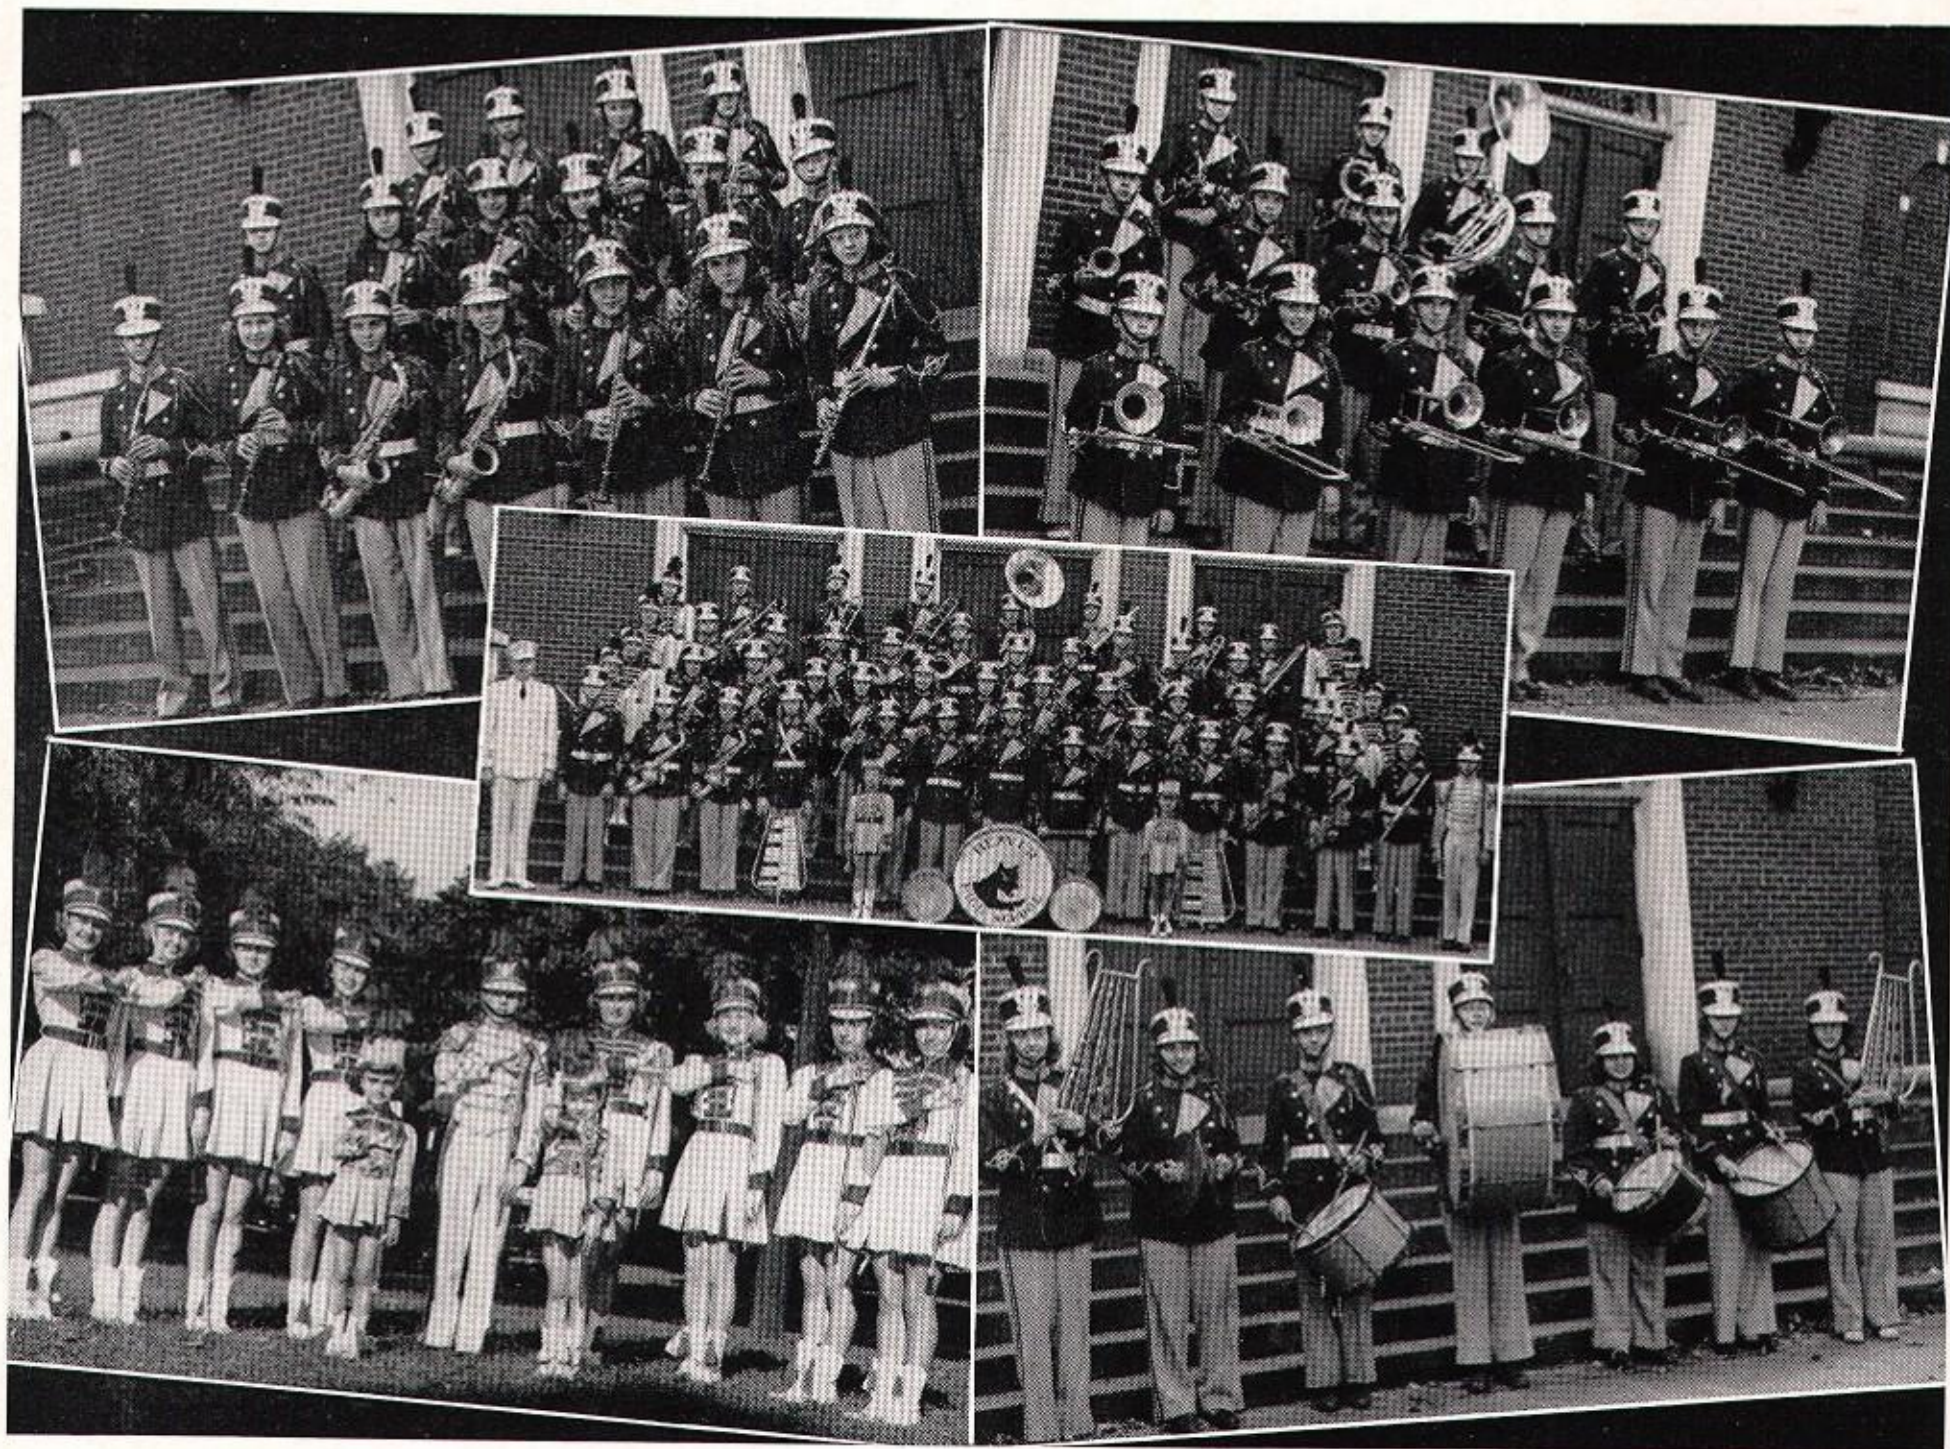

Character is one of the qualities which they have worked with and have finally molded to their liking. This was the product of many years of home training, consideration for others, and interest in those around them. The quotient of these became a general character of high moral standing and responsibility. Leadership was not only conceived in the classroom, but also begotten from the many activities at their fingertips and the many opportunities which they made for themselves. The result of their interest arrived in the form of a trust for guidance and service. The respect and friendship which this won for them was more than adequate payment. Their achievements and success as Beaver High School students can be ably traced through their record of scholarship for the way of study and education was lead by these.

The distinction of membership in the National Honor Society was not taken lightly; instead, they formed a working branch of the organization. Officers were chosen: Dick Campbell became president; Donald Gardner, vice-president; and Betsy Strother occupied the role of secretary-treasurer. Together with many other functions, they corresponded with graduate members of the society and held inductions of students chosen by their fellow classmates and teachers.

We know, and you do too, that they have valued and honored our trust. The guidance and inspiration handed down by their examples cannot help but remain a constant and meaningful challenge to you, and you, and you.—Challenge accepted??

BAND

Our fine organization, known as the band, has been highly successful this year. The music sounded superb as the members marched out onto the field in snappy red uniforms, or as they played for assemblies and concerts. During the football season our voices rang in the gym as well as in the stadium while the band played our spirited school songs. It is one of the most important elements in keeping up the spirit and pep of the students besides providing enjoyable listening.

Unique formations were presented at each football game during halftime, however, at the beginning of every game the spectators were greeted with a "Hi" formed by the quick stepping members. During the intermission, routines such as the "Umbrella" and the "Bar-X" were presented and received with favorable comment from the spectators. At the Rochester game our band went all out with a breath-taking flaming heart routine, performed in the dark.

Mr. A. Murray Cornelius, the director of all the musical organizations, must be heartily congratulated on the fine work he has done with the various organizations, especially the band. Although this is his first year at Beaver High School he has proved himself to be an asset through the fine performance of the band at intermissions of the football games and the superb music at assemblies and concerts.

The majorettes added greatly to the colorful array of the unit. They made a fine appearance on the field as they went through intricate presentations while leading the band. Their ability to work together and their ingenuity attributed much to their success.

Since the orchestra is very small this year, the band has devoted some of its time in learning a few more concert pieces. Although the orchestra lost most of its members in the graduating class of last year, the orchestra members desired to keep the organization together and have met every Tuesday and Thursday for a practice period. In years to come it is hoped that our orchestra will be larger, especially in the string section.

The band does much in adding prestige to our high school by appearing in parades in all parts of the valley and having some of its members participating in such select organizations as the Mid-Western Band.

The members and director of the band should be given well deserved credit for the many long hours they spent in gaining perfection. As the old saying goes, "Practice makes perfect."

It is only appropriate that we should offer them our heartiest thanks for a job well done.

... they led our victory parade ...

ATHLETICS

This year our football team was

Ken (Dud) Blair was a hard-hitting back. He was full of spirit at every game and his defense helped the Bobcats many times.

Robert (Rogie) Rogus was our tall, fast end. Few passes got away from him. Because of injuries Rogie didn't play this year, but it's rumored that he helped Bama in coaching Mr. Cutri.

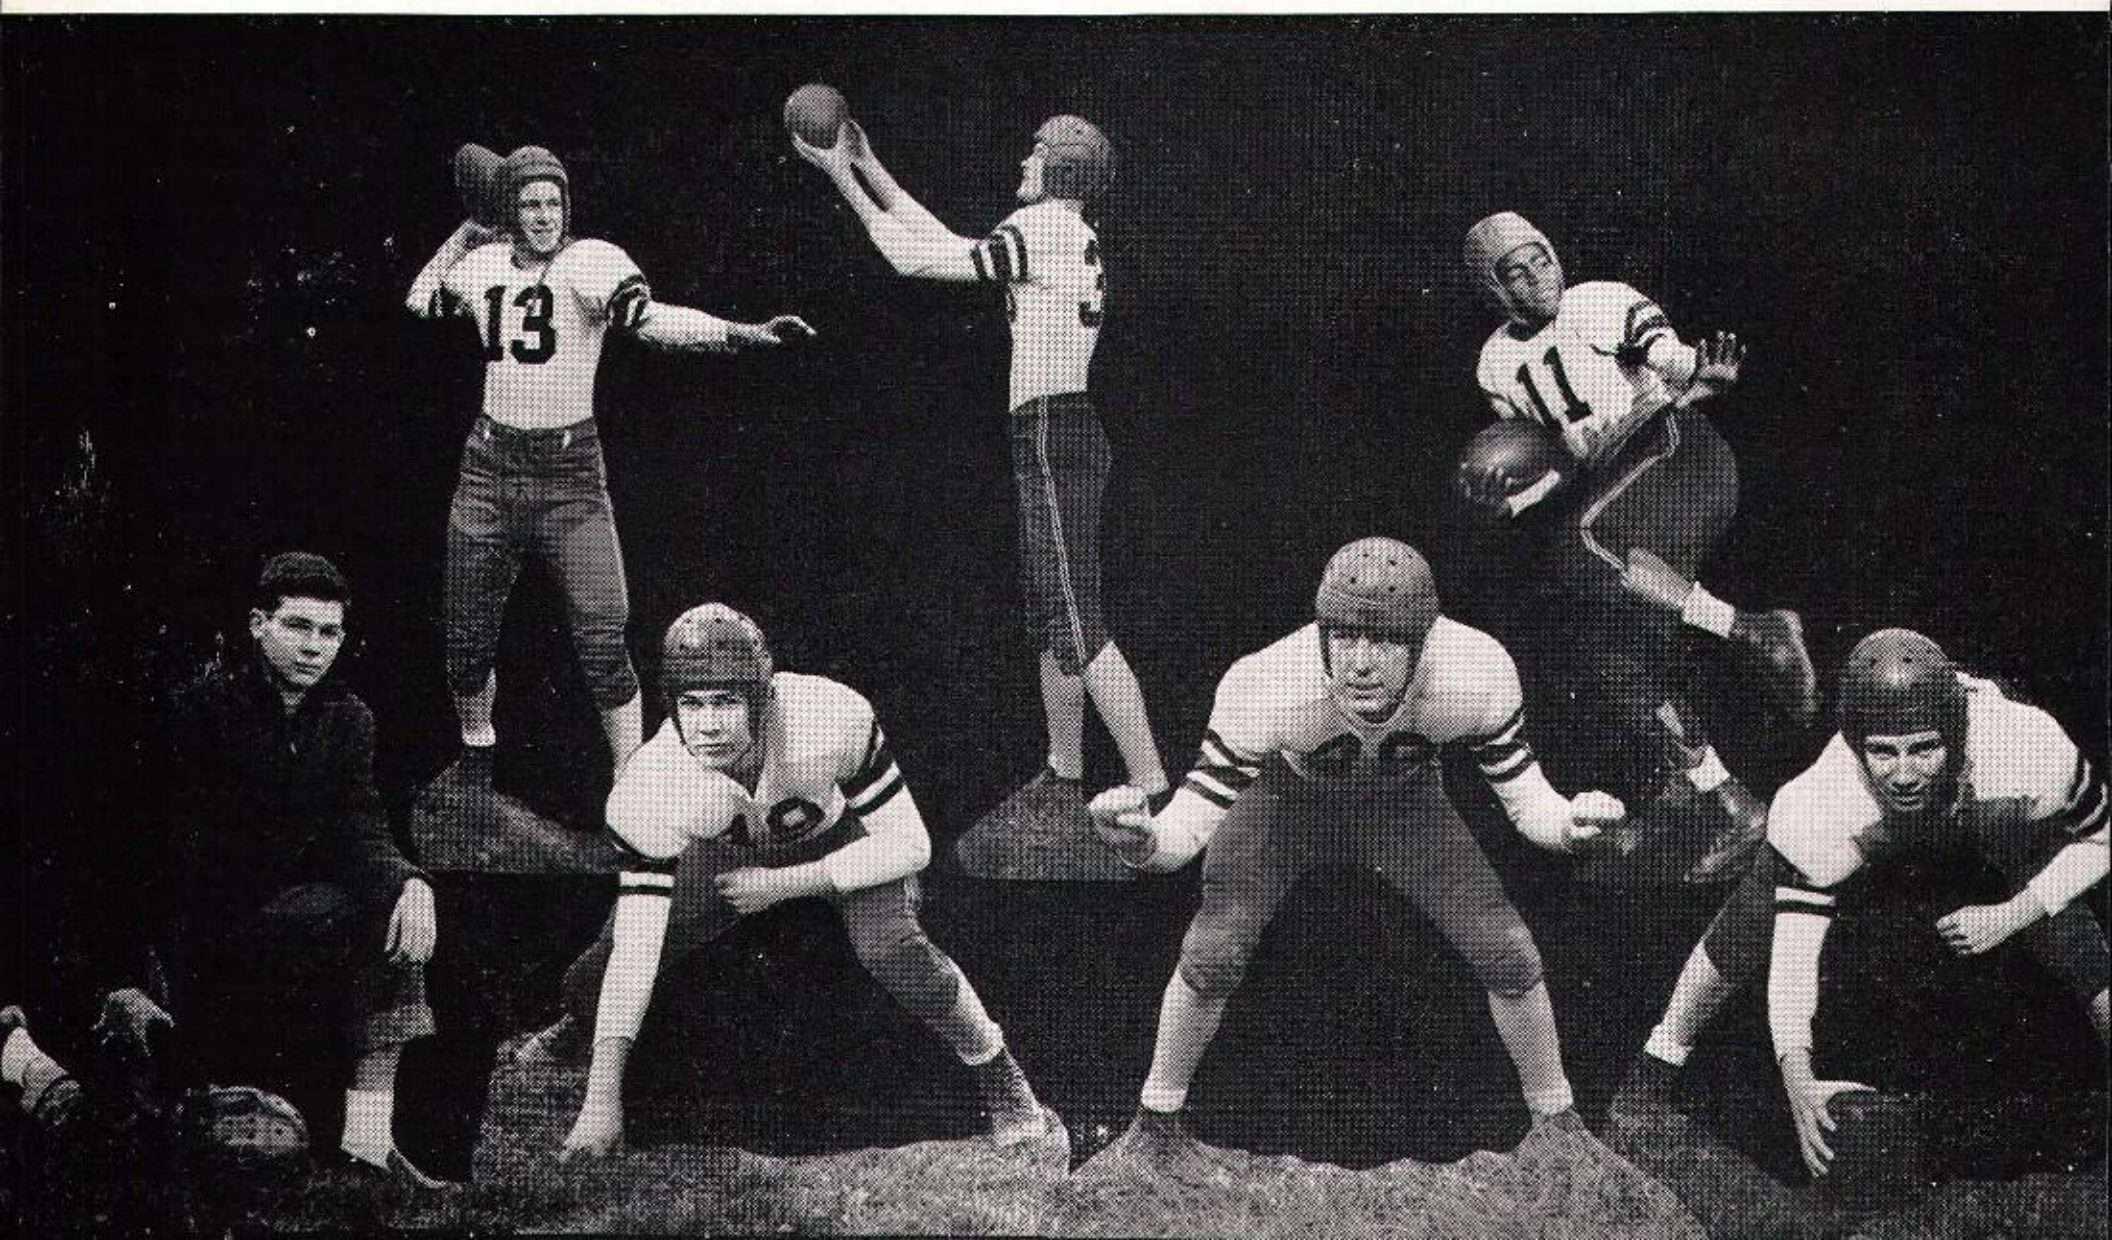

Howard (Carps) Carper was that fast little backfield man that you saw sprinting around end so many times. "Carps" played both defensive and offensive equally well.

Robert (Giff) Gifford was our faithful manager. Giff saw to it that the boys had everything they wanted. He also wrapped their cuts and bruises.

Jerry Lewis was a great threat to the opposition with his vicious blocking and tackling. Jerry always played hard and lost a couple of teeth in the bargain.

James (Bama) Adams was a hard hitting tackle who was hard to face. Like Rogie, Bama was benched because of injuries the whole year, but that didn't hinder his coaching any.

Bill Edgar was on his toes this year and played good ball. He played defensive line backer. His fast, straight centers helped the team considerably.

outstanding in its performances on the gridiron.

Richard (Stumpy) Cameron was the brains of the outfit. In calling the plays he did a remarkably good job. He was a very good downfield blocker and an exceptionally fine tackler when the opponents had the ball.

Vernon (Top) Casteel was very swift on foot, a good blocker and passer. He did most of our kicking and got off some especially fine ones in the Rochester game. Topper scored the first touchdown against Rochester in thirteen years.

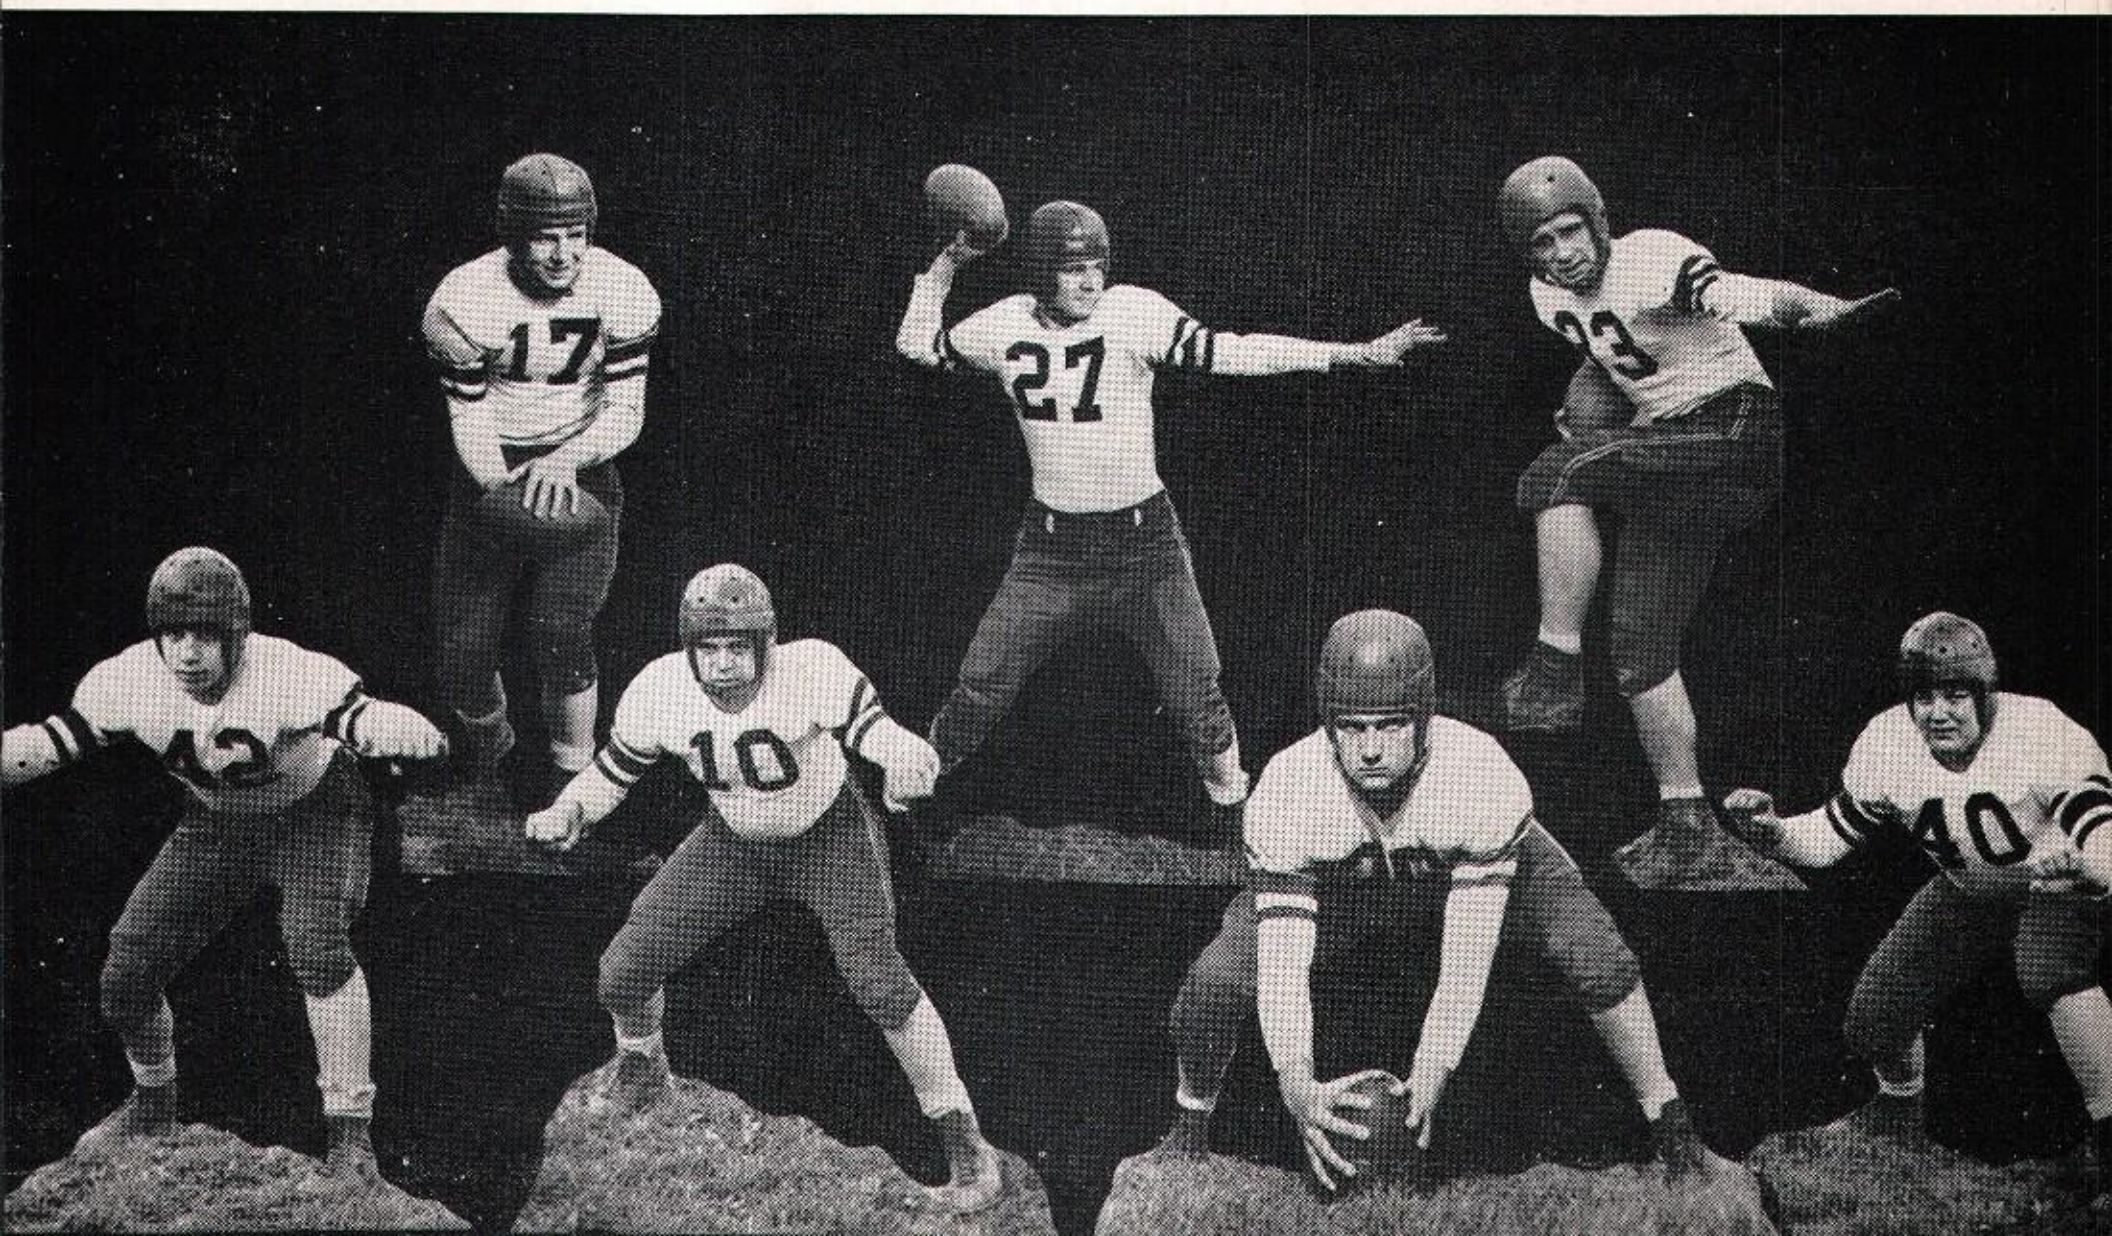

Stanley (Staush) Boden was our bone-crushing fullback, a three-year letterman. Not only could Boden carry the mail, but he backed up our fine line this year in stellar fashion.

Robert (Bottle) Weaver, our short, broad heavy tackle, received honorary mention in the Sun-Telegraph for all WPIAL. Bob was our varsity left tackle for two years and a very fine defensive man.

Robert (Greek) Staub was a three-year letterman. He was elected Captain in his senior year and was named all WPIAL by every poll taker. Bob received special mention for his fine line backing on defense.

Harold (Bud) Roush played center for two years and did a very fine offensive job. His kickoffs were effective and helped greatly in the Beaver cause. In the last minutes of the Rochester game he stopped a scoring threat by intercepting a pass and bringing it back to Rochester's twenty-yard line.

Matthew (Mutt) Loncher was the heaviest man on the squad, weighing two hundred and thirty-five pounds. He was used mostly on defense and proved to be a very tough man to move out of the way.

Good teamwork and a determined spirit

BEAVER VS. MIDLAND

The opening game was played on the new Midland football field. This game was the official opener for their stadium so it can be understood why Midland was determined to win.

The game started with Midland receiving. They at once started their scoring drive up the field. Gornak ran 13 yards for the first touchdown. The try for the extra point was wide. In the second quarter Gornak tossed a pass to Allen, who raised Midland's tally by six points as their try for the extra point was no good. Beaver took the kick and started up the field but lost the ball on downs. The Leopards took over, but luck was with us, as Gornak tossed a pass which Staub intercepted and pranced forty-five yards for the Bobcat's first touchdown. Our try for the extra point also failed.

In the third quarter, Hubbard ran nine yards for another touchdown, adding an extra point. With minutes to play in the game, Casteel flipped a short pass to Hayes who ran for another score, our attempt for another point again was no good. The game ended with the score, Midland 19, Beaver 12. The first game was a hard game to lose.

TARENTUM DOWNS BEAVER

The second game of the season started with the Bobcats kicking off to Tarentum. As soon as the ball was received, Tarentum started to march up the field. A few passes put them close to our goal. Anthony went wide around end and brought the ball up to the eight where he went off tackle to score. The try for the extra point was good. Beaver fought hard, but they couldn't get started. The Bobcats showed good defensive playing, however, and kept the spectators on the edge of their seats with vicious blocks and tackles.

In the third quarter the Bobcats started to roll. They gathered yardage every play, through center, around end, and with short passes. It was on one of Casteel's passes that Tarentum intercepted and ran sixty yards for the second touchdown. They again added the extra point.

The Bobcats held the Tarentum team almost to a standstill in the fourth quarter. Beaver's defense was wonderful. They really had the Tarentum team's quarter-back sweating. The game ended at 14 to 0. After two defeats our luck was due for a change.

were responsible for many exciting games.

FIRST WIN

Beaver's faltering attack began to show a little life when they defeated Leetsdale 12 to 0. Although the Bobcats had shown no offensive power in their first two engagements, they had shown promise of things to come.

During a bruising first half neither team was able to penetrate its opponents' thirty-yard line. Both teams had a stiff defense but neither was able to put together a sustained drive.

Late in the third period Roush intercepted a Leetsdale pass and carried it to the ten-yard line. From there Boden bowled over for the first score.

In the fourth quarter Leetsdale, desperately trying to come back, threw a long forward pass which speed boy Casteel intercepted and went all the way for the touchdown. Both placements were wide. The teams played a hard fought game. Several injuries were received by Leetsdale and Beaver's Jack McDermott suffered a neck injury.

REVENGE IS SWEET

The Bobcats, finally hitting their stride, bowled over Monaca 12-0. Beaver, led by the smart quarterbacking of Cameron and ferocious line play, played its best game so far this year.

The first quarter was spent with each team's trying to find the other's weakness; consequently, most of the play was at midfield.

In the second quarter, though, Beaver began a sustained drive that was climaxed when Don Ray, on an off-tackle play, scored the first touchdown. Beaver, however, did not make the extra point.

During the third quarter it looked bad for the Bobcats when Monaca drove to Beaver's thirteen-yard line. Magnificent play by the complete forward wall saved the day, and Beaver took over on downs. From that point Beaver staged a drive of their own which was completed when Ray tossed a pass to Hayes, who lateraled to Casteel, who ran thirty yards for the touchdown. That was all the scoring needed for Beaver to come out on top of a very hard fought ball game.

ABOUT FACE

Any resemblance between the teams that played against New Brighton in the first and the second halves was purely coincidental. In the first half Beaver played as if they were sleep-walking; and the line, which had been so aggressive against Monaca, just didn't seem to have it.

New Brighton scored early when Ayers, their star left end, snared a touchdown pass in the end zone. New Brighton's placekick, however, was blocked by Greek Staub, Beaver's left guard. New Brighton threatened many times during the first half, but Beaver held.

Until this day no one but the team knows what Mr. Kane said during the half-time, but the Bobcats came out in the second half, snarling for revenge. The crush of Beaver linemen hitting the poor New Brighton backs will long be remembered at Gypsy Glen Stadium.

Near the end of the third quarter Ray faded back and passed to golden boy Hayes, who grabbed the pigskin and plunged across for the six points. Taking no chances, quarterback Cameron sent Boden into the line on a straight buck for the extra point. This put Beaver in front to stay. New Brighton did not have a chance after that. The Front Line, Inc. didn't give an inch of precious yardage and Beaver came in on the right side of a 7 to 6 score.

GET OUT THE ADDING MACHINE

Beaver traveled to Freedom, where the Bobcats trampled the Bulldogs 34 to 0. With lightning-like precision Beaver proved to Freedom that tea and cake is not such a bad diet after all.

One of the highlights of the first half was when Howard Carper returned a punt seventy yards to help set up the first touchdown. Early in the first half Boden and Ray each scored two touchdowns and the extra points to put the Bobcats ahead. Late in the third quarter Ray flipped a pass to Koenig Hayes, who rambled over the Freedom goal for a touchdown.

Beaver's line, as usual, played a magnificent game, outchargin' the lighter Freedom line in every minute of play. The well-played and hard-fought game was enjoyed by all. The players and spectators alike should be congratulated for their sportsman-like conduct.

STORM WARNINGS FALSE

When the Beaver Bobcats and the Butler Tornadoes clashed, the storm forecasted was reversed with the Bobcats causing a mild hurricane.

Early in the first quarter Casteel, on a wide reverse, swiveled-hipped his way over for the first touchdown. Shortly after that Loncher tackled the Butler ball carrier, causing him to fumble deep in his own territory. Beaver pounced on the ball and capitalized on Butler's mistake. After several plays Cameron went over on a quarterback sneak.

Near the half-time, Ray faded back and flipped a touchdown pass to Hayes for the third score of the game. Boden plunged for extra points after each touchdown.

Late in the third quarter Ray rifled a pass to Hayes for the fourth touchdown. The extra point was added on an end sweep by Ray.

The Beaver line did everything but carry the ball, with Staub and Weaver in the Butler backfield almost as fast as the ball was snapped. The whole line—Holt, Weaver, Staub, Roush, Forsythe, Pinkerton, Hayes and alternate Lewis, should be commended for their fine work. Everyone had a lot to do in the 28 to 0 rout of Butler and deserves equal credit.

BEAVER BOWS TO CORY

The Coraopolis Blue Devils rolled up a score of 24 to 6 against the Beaver Bobcats. First downs were even at 15 for each team, but the difference was that Cory picked up numerous long gains while the Bobcats ground theirs out in small pieces.

Although the Bobcats were unable to solve the Coraopolis T-formation charges through the line, they had the distinction of being the second team to score against the air-tight Blue Devil defense this season.

The Cory team marched 78 yards for its first tally in the opening period. A 35-yard pass from Beggerstaff to Trello helped out considerably. Another long pass took them to the Bobcats' 5-yard line. Trello plunged over for the first T. D. Parelli was smothered when he tried for the extra point.

In the second stanza Cory halted Beaver on the 19-yard line and then marched 81 yards for another T. D. The try for the extra point was stopped cold.

The Blue Devils added two more touchdowns in the third quarter. Late in the third quarter Beaver started an 81-yard march down the field that ended in a touchdown.

Two short passes to Hayes by Ray and Casteel brought them to the three where Ray went wide to score standing up. Staub's being injured in the game hindered the fighting Bobcat line.

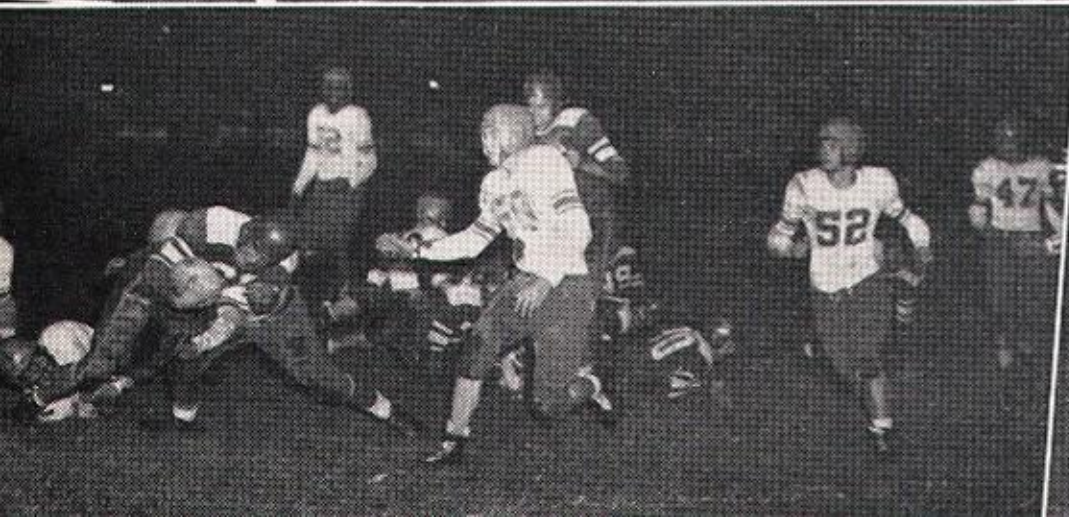

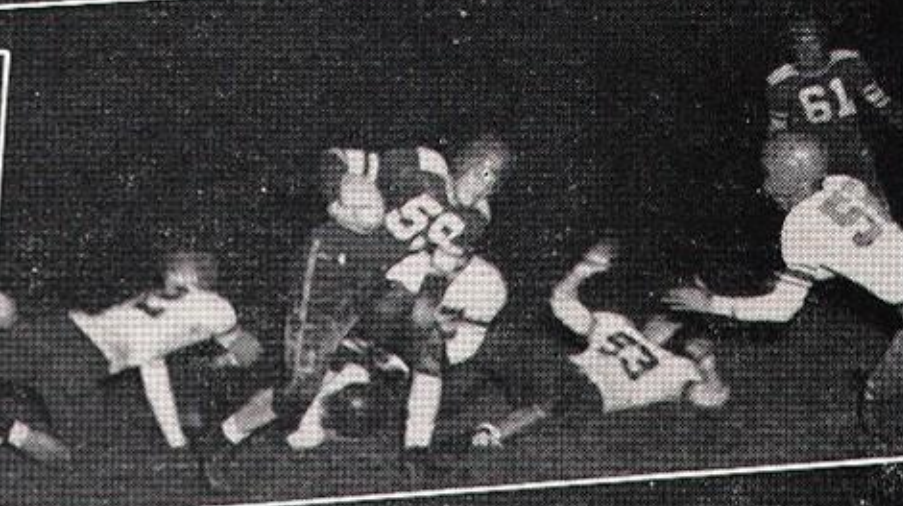

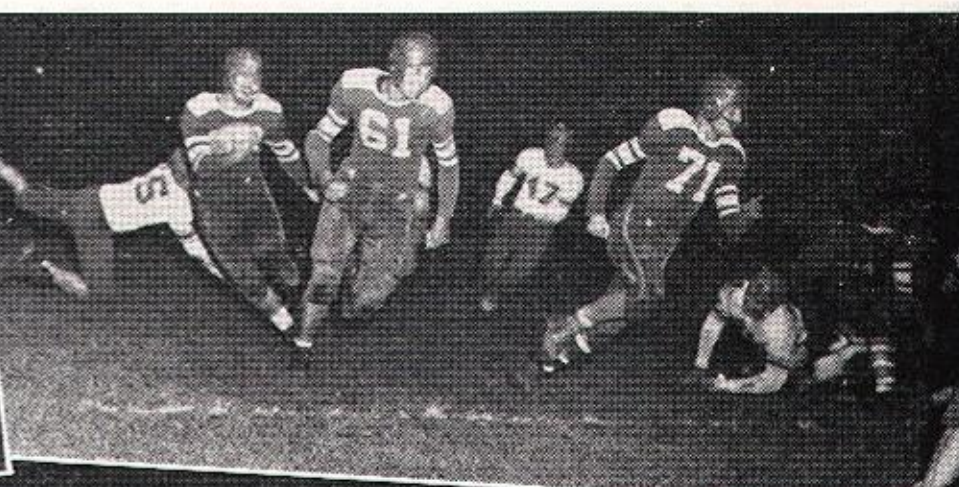

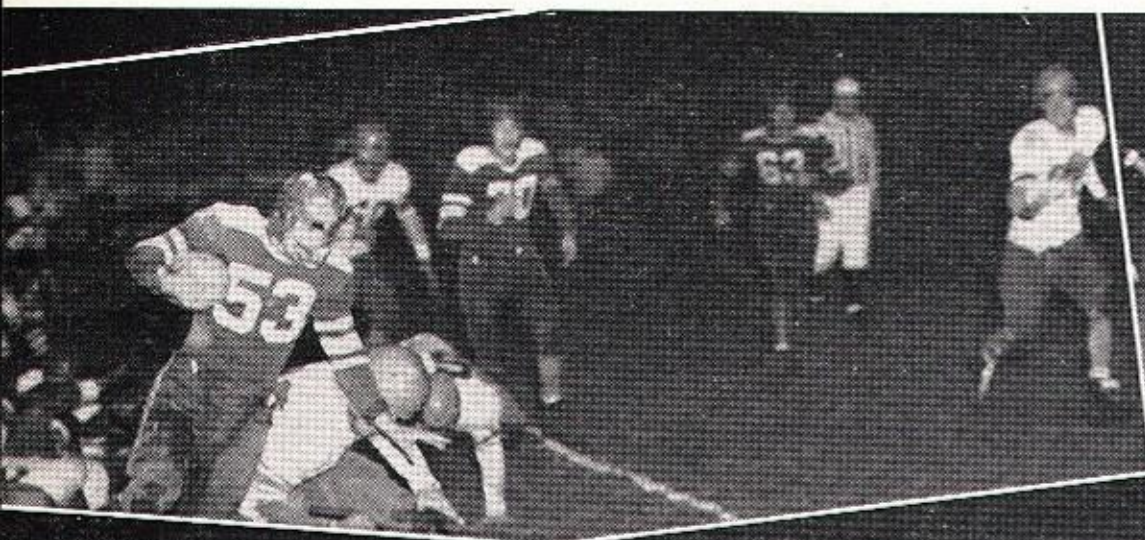

We waited a long time for this game

The Beaver Bobcats closed their season in a blaze of glory as they edged Rochester 14 to 13 to gain their first victory over the Rams since 1935. The thrilling contest between the traditional rivals was played in Beaver's Gypsy Glen stadium before 6,000 fans.

It was the fortieth game in the long series between the Bobcats and Rams. This win was the tenth for Beaver, who ground out its two tallies on sustained drives, while the Rams exploded a pair of spectacular long touchdown plays.

The Rams struck first in the first quarter after Beaver's punt (in the face of a high wind) traveled only three yards beyond the scrimmage line to the Beaver 42. Pete Chambers promptly went the entire distance behind beautiful blocking. The Rams sent Alva Berry into the line to attempt the extra point, but he was smothered.

Late in the first quarter, Pander got off a kick that rolled out of bounds on Beaver's two-yard line. The Bobcats, with their backs to the wall, elected to run the ball instead of punting. The strategy paid off as Stan Boden, playing the last and best game of his high school career, picked up 15 yards on two line smashes which started a 98-yard march for Beaver. The touchdown march received a sharp setback when Beaver moved inside the Rochester's 10, only to be penalized to the 23 for holding. Ray gained three yards through the line, then fired an 11-yard pass to Hayes, who carried the ball to the nine-yard line. Two plays later the Bobcats pulled a reverse in which Ray handed the ball to Casteel who waltzed across the goal line standing up. Boden dived over for the all important extra point. The Bobcats held a slim 7-6 lead that lasted until the half ended.

It couldn't be done - - but we did it

In the third quarter Rochester staged a 40-yard march that ended abruptly when Boden recovered a fumble by Joe Colella on the Beaver 42.

The two clubs then battled on fairly even terms until midway through the fourth stanza. Then Rochester took possession of the ball after Casteel punted out of bounds on the Ram's 21 mark.

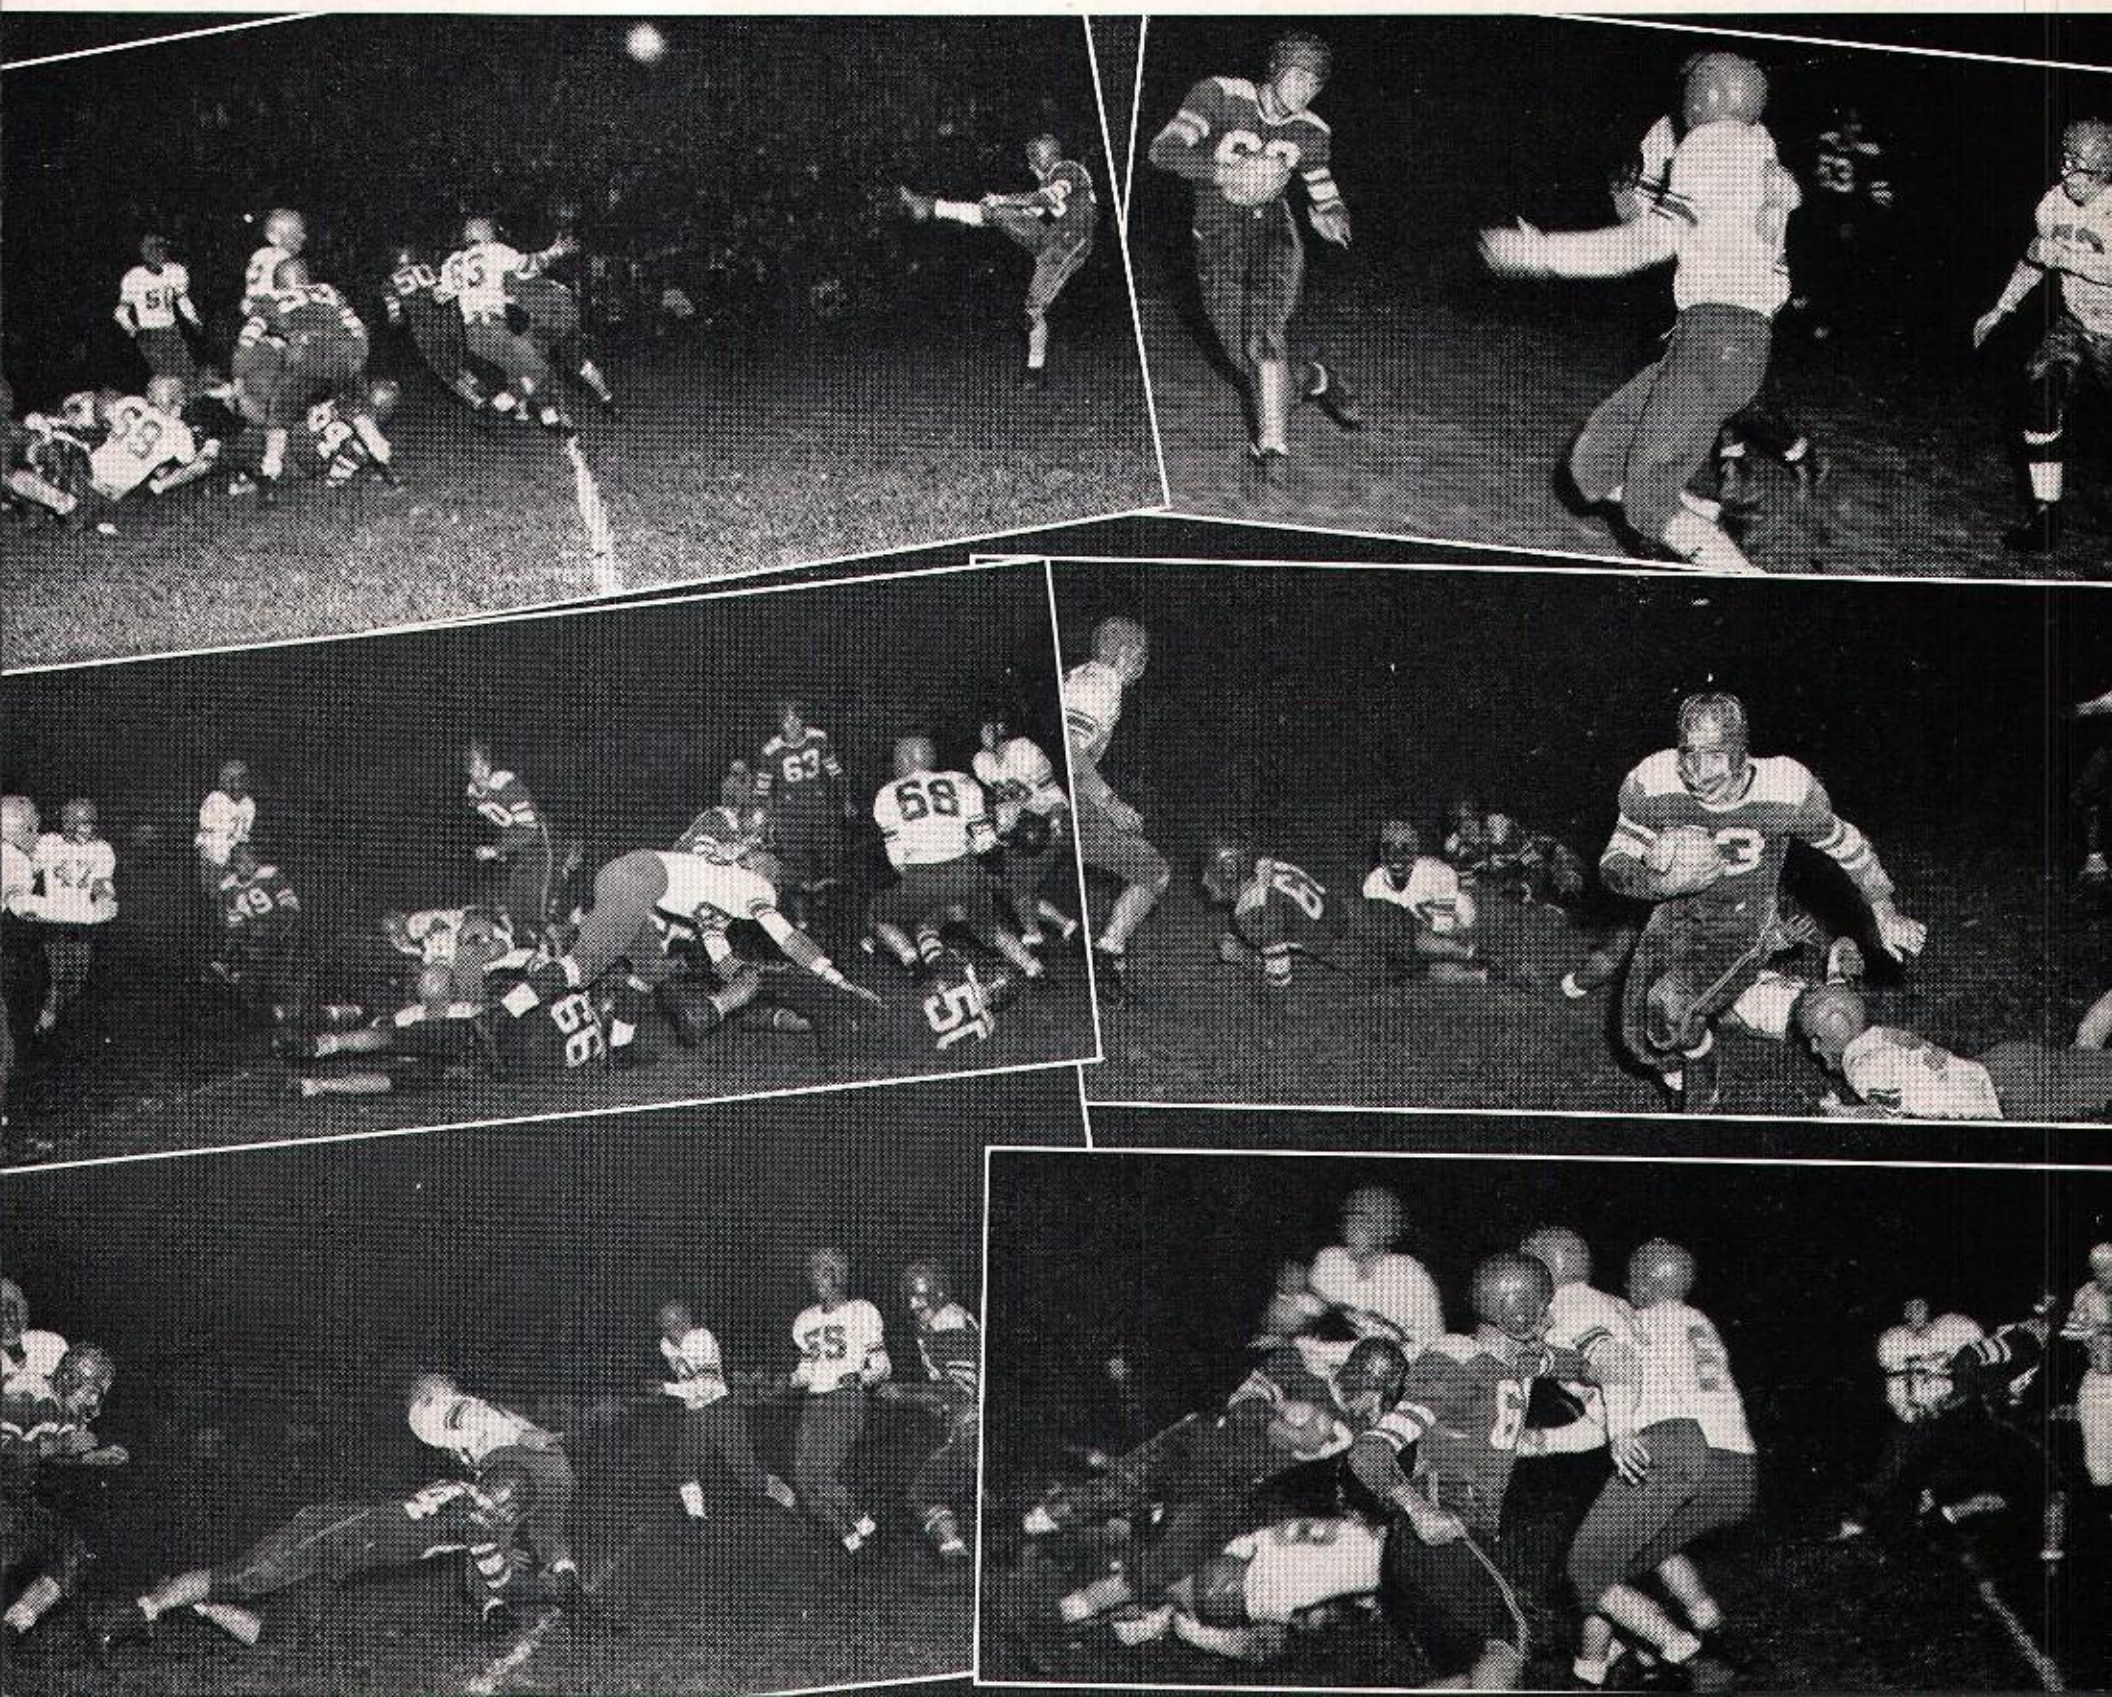

On the first play, Pete Chambers flipped a pass over the line that Alva Berry snagged on the Rochester 31. Berry was hit by three Bobcat defenders, but he managed to twist loose and head for touchdown territory on a 79-yard pay-off play. Chambers bullied his way through the Bobcat line successfully to add the extra point that gave the Rams a 13-7 advantage.

Beaver came back fighting after Koenig Hayes returned the next kickoff 15 yards to the Beaver 49. From that point the Bobcats punched out their second touchdown in 12 plays, with Ray and Boden again sharing most of the ball carrying. Don Ray climaxed the march by dashing nine yards off right tackle to score unmolested. Boden crashed over for the extra point and the score stood at 14-13.

Rochester took to the air immediately after receiving the next kickoff, but center Harold Roush ended the Ram's hope by intercepting one of Chambers' passes on the 40 and returning to the 27. A penalty and three running plays moved the Bobcats to the Ram 13-yard mark where the game ended.

The Bobcats piled a top-heavy margin of 16 first downs to four for the Junction City team and their tight defense held the Rams in check through most of the game. What a game! What a team! What a year!

.... The county champs received many awards for their outstanding year.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The crowning event to one of the most successful football seasons in Beaver's history was the annual Football Banquet, sponsored by the Football Mothers' Auxiliary, which was held in the Guild Hall of the United Presbyterian Church.

The tables were especially inviting with their colorful decorations of flowers, candy, nuts, and fruit. The seniors' table centerpiece was the football which was used in the Rochester game. Miniature statuettes of each senior player, made by Mr. Casteel, were used as place cards.

After Dr. E. Marcellus Nesbitt voiced the invocation, everyone seated themselves with anticipation of great things to come. Nor were they disappointed! Line after line of beautiful girls and attractive matrons filed through and deluged them with turkey and all the "trimmings." The unique dessert of ice cream, bearing the inscription, was admired and enjoyed by all.

Mr. David Cameron, acting as toastmaster, introduced Dr. G. A. McCormick, who praised the team for their fine record this year. Mr. Kane was introduced next, who told his annual story about the banquet season being his favorite part of the year. Following this, Mr. Cutri praised Mr. Kane and the team for their fine record throughout the season. Mr. Linn added his word of praise and appreciation to the coaches and the team and then presented the letters to the underclassmen. Next Chuck Wilson, radio announcer from WBVP, gave a talk about sports announcing.

The thrill of the evening was the talk by Red Moore, star guard of the Pittsburgh Steelers. Red held the boys enthralled with the account of his experiences in college and professional football. A question period by the boys followed, which could have lasted far into the night.

The crowd was in a grand mood! Paul Jones, remembering that Red Moore played high school football for Rochester, could not resist asking one more question, "Say, Red, is this the first time that you have ever eaten cake?"

The honorary captain, Robert "Greek" Staub, after an informal talk, presented gifts to the coaches from the team.

The highlight of the evening came when Mrs. Ernest Casteel presented silver footballs to the Juniors and gold footballs and sweaters to the Seniors.

The stars of tomorrow have a lot to live up to.

1948-1949 FOOTBALL SEASON

When the new Junior High School football coach, Mr. Johnson, called for applicants for the team in the fall, there was an enthusiastic response. After eliminations he still had a good sized ball club and they had a fairly good season, winning two, losing two, and tying one. Both the team and the Junior High student body showed a good fighting spirit which, if continued, will insure a fine spirit of sportsmanship in Beaver High School in the coming years.

CHEERLEADERS

Neither rain, snow, nor sleet dampened the high spirits of our faithful cheerleaders throughout the past year. Clad in white sweaters, red skirts, and red and white saddle shoes, this lively group not only led cheers, but also kept good sportsmanship among the students. They aroused pep in the students during both victory and defeat. This year the girls worked up several new cheers which were accepted enthusiastically by the student body. Despite the fact that this group had no sponsor, they did an excellent job under the fine leadership of Sally Lou Jones, the head cheerleader. Russell Henry, Bob Lanahan, and Tom Piemme, clad in white shirts and pants, red sweaters, and saddle shoes, created a novelty as cheerleaders at one of our games. Beaver High School hasn't had boy cheerleaders since the 1942-1943 season.

Tryouts for new cheerleaders were held at the close of the football season. A large percentage of the sophomore girls participated. It was very difficult for this year's cheerleaders to choose new members, but finally all were eliminated except our present new cheerleaders, Patty Anzio, Carolyn Cooper, and Hilda Haire. They have proved themselves capable of this honor by performing at the basketball games.

Last year Velma Lou Anderson, Nancy Lindahl and Evalyn Savisky were selected as new cheerleaders to replace Janice Hanley and Betty Lou Stahlman, who graduated. Sally Lou Jones, Connie Craft and Miriam Guda are the veterans of two years.

Each year the girls are awarded a gift by the Football Mothers. This year the gifts were beautiful handkerchiefs. In addition to this, the senior members received silver footballs with their initials on them. Congratulations to this group for their untiring effort, which helped to make the season a success.

When basketball practice began in November, Mr. Cutri had the return of four lettermen and several promising reserves. The returning lettermen and reserves were Dick Cameron, Dick Campbell, Vernon Casteel, Bob Rogus, Jim Adams, Jerry Lewis, Bill Segmiller, Gordon Milligan and Jim Pinkerton. Three of these players were big question marks, for Jim Pinkerton was recovering from a broken arm, and Bob Rogus and Jim Adams were both recovering from operations. All three of these players participated in games but did not reach their top playing form until late in the season.

Beaver played several practice games with Ambridge and with a group of former graduates of Beaver High. The purpose of these games was to smooth out Beaver's ball handling and defensive work.

At the end of the season Beaver was in third place in the county and was the only team in Section 6 besides Monaca who beat Midland.

The individual scoring honors went to lanky Bob Rogus who scored 219 points. Both Rogus and Casteel were elected to a place on the all-county team.

At the end of a successful season the team unanimously elected Vernon Casteel as captain. Vernon was a two-year letterman and was an outstanding defense man as well as a high scoring forward.

BASEBALL

When Mr. Kane called for candidates for the baseball team in early March, there were only two lettermen to respond to the call, Bill Todd and Jay Aldrich.

In April, before the first game was played, Mr. Kane announced that his starters would be: Freeland at first, Todd at second, Anzio at short, Segmiller at third, Cameron in right field, Loncher in center field, Lanahan in left field, Staub catching, with Milligan and Casteel doing most of the pitching. The team suffered a serious setback when Jay Aldrich was lost for the season with a chipped bone in his knee.

Beaver dropped its first game with Rochester 2 to 1 and kept right on losing until they beat Monaca 8 to 7! The main reason for Beaver's poor season was inexperience.

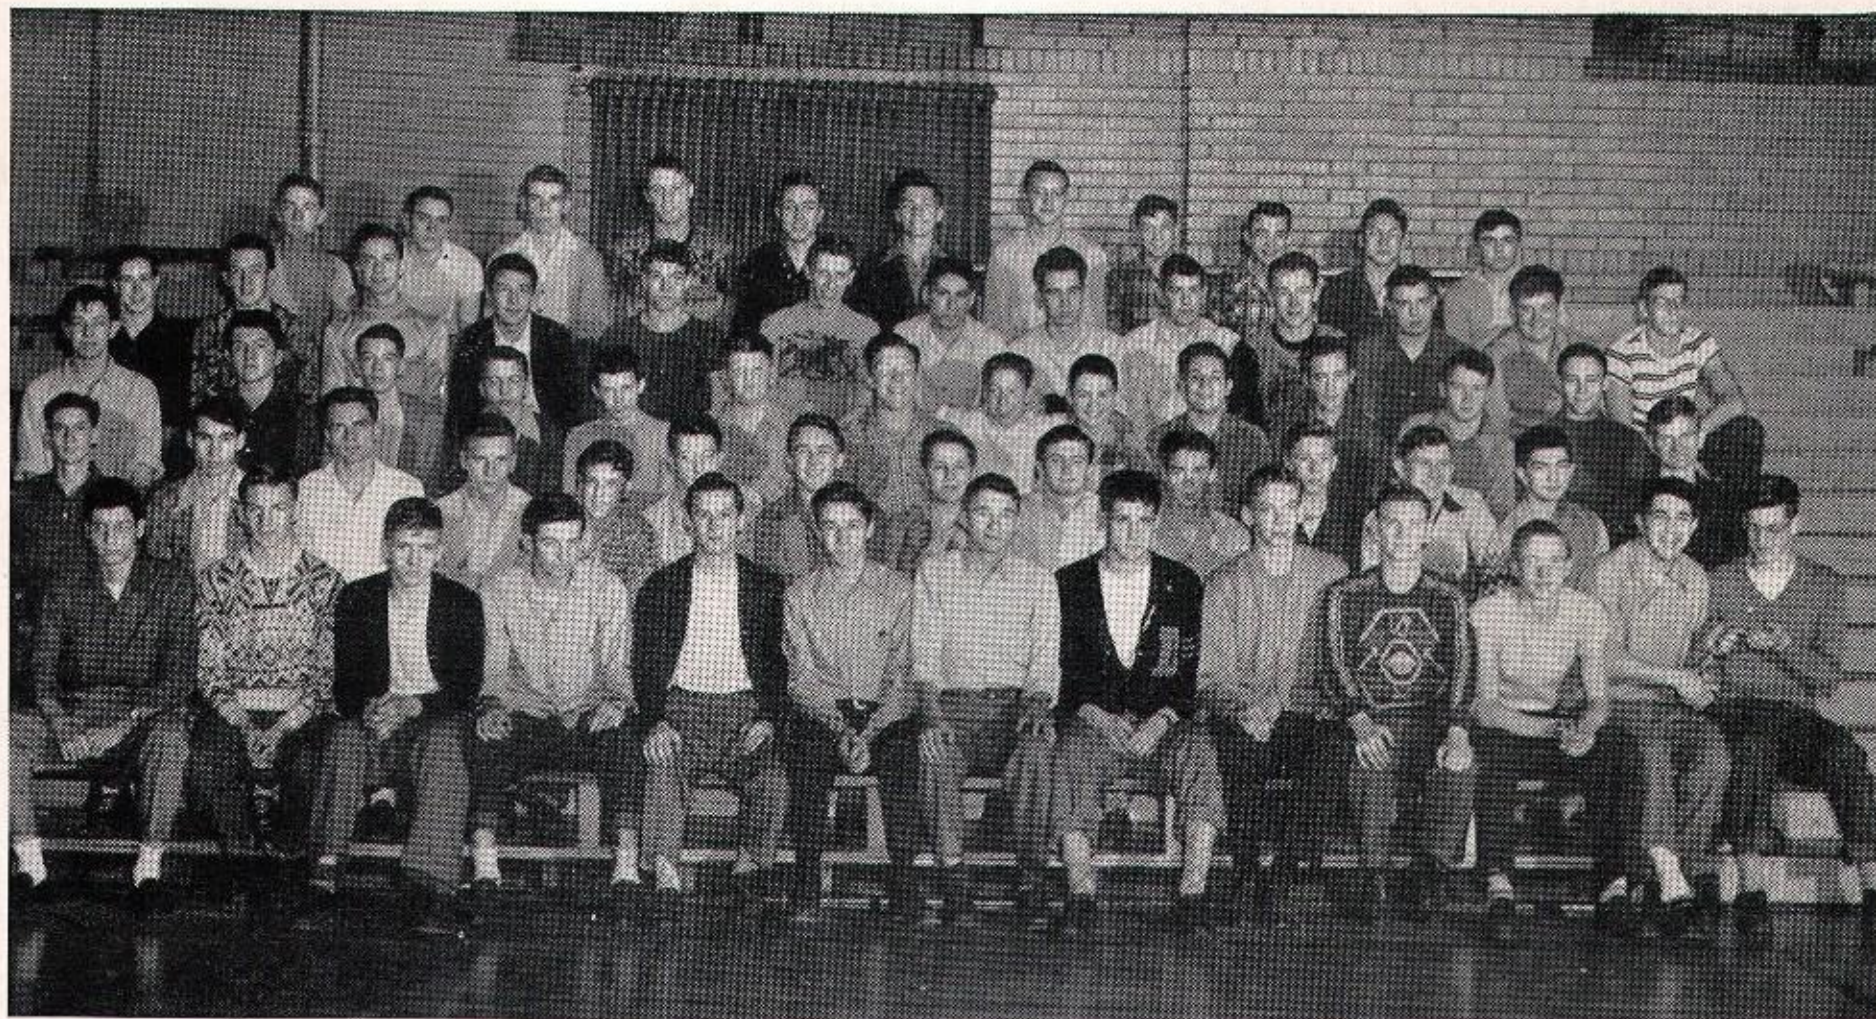

The 1949 squad will not be so greatly hampered by inexperience with the return of such experienced players as Cameron, Campbell, Clark, Casteel, Lanahan, Milligan, Oakes, Segmiller, and Staub.

The Boys' Athletic Club was formed in 1944 under the supervision of Mr. Richard Smith. The main idea of the club was to promote sportsmanship and to help build healthy bodies. This club has grown to become one of the most popular clubs in school and almost every boy who is eligible belongs to the club.

This year the Boys' Athletic Club, under the supervision of Paul Jones, met in November and formed an intramural basketball league. The teams formed were: The Sons of Greece, captained by Bob Staub; Five Feathers, captained by Bob Gifford; Cake-eaters, captained by Ken Blair; Featherweights, captained by Frank Forsythe; Cream-

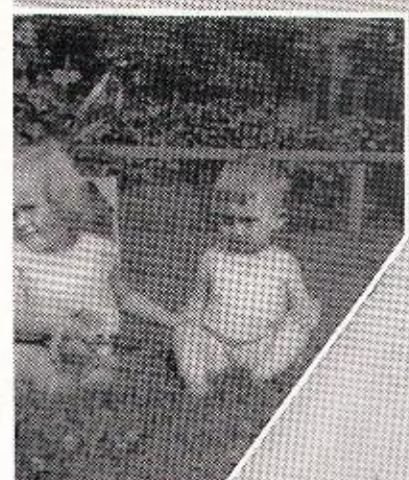

Puffs, captained by Bill Edgar; Hackers, captained by Koenig Hayes; Sharon Inners, captained by Matt Launcher; and the Teasippers, captained by Bob Weaver. Plans were made for a three-game playoff between the two sectional winners to determine the champions.

Several of these games were very exciting. The highlight of the season, however, was when Jack Oakes made thirty points in one game.

When the basketball season was over, the boys competed in boxing, wrestling, and softball.

The Boys' Athletic Club has done much to promote good sportsmanship and to develop leaders in our high school.

The class of '48 produced "Four Daughters"

"FOUR DAUGHTERS"

The senior class of 1948 made a fitting climax to their high school career with the splendid performance of "Four Daughters." The cast was well chosen and directed by Miss Cathryne Esenwein and they displayed great dramatic ability.

The play was about the musical Lemp family, headed by Adam Lemp and including his four daughters and Aunt Etta. The girls first decided to become old maids, but Felix, a friend, and Mickey, a composer of sorts, changed the girls' plans with the aid of two loyal eligibles, Ben Crawley and Ernest. The play really got involved after awhile, but everything turned out well in the end, as plays have a way of doing.

The cast included: Mickey, Lloyd Dyer; Felix, Tom Kissick; Ann Lemp, Vivian Hartenbach; Emma Lemp, Mary Lou Cobner; Thea Lemp, Yvonne Gardner; Kay Lemp, Joanne Lees. Others in the cast were: Adam Lemp, Donald Kennedy; Aunt Etta, Emma Jean Way; Ernest, Robert Conlon; Ben Crawley, George Overly; minister, Bruce Ferguson. The wedding guests were William Bissel, Jack Witty, Judy Cooper and Janice Hanley.

'49's "Life With Father" was a howling success.

"LIFE WITH FATHER"

The Christmas gift of the senior class was presented to the public on December 17, after many weeks of hard work and rehearsals. It was worth the work, however, as Clarence Day's "Life With Father" was a huge success.

The cast, directed by Miss Cathryne Esenwein, was composed of many favorites including Roy Anderson as Father and Shirley Overholt as Vinnie, his devoted spouse.

The story concerns the affairs of the riotous Day family. Mother can't keep her household accounts straight; the red-headed sons, including Dave Haire as Clarence, Robert Lanahan as John, Ruth Johnson as Whitney, and Donnie McConnaughy, our import from second grade, as the youngest son, Harlan, find life troublesome and filled with such things as catechism, new suits, and girls. The story takes on an even funnier aspect when Cousin Cora, portrayed by Nancy Hansen, and Mary Skinner, played by Lois Dyer, come to visit the Day family; Father hates visitors. The five maids, played by Patty Grant, Sally Lou Jones, Connie Craft, Margaret Wheeler, and Patty Shiveley; the minister, Bill Traynor; and the doctors, Robert Moore and Bill Standley; all made their contributions to make "Life With Father" a howling success. Joanne Thornton gave excellent help as student director and Nancy Javens ably handled the business department. Orchids to the Senior Class for their successful class play.

HONOR GROUP

Some students receive credit for being outstanding in athletics, some are rewarded for their notable service in activities; therefore, we believe that it is only proper for some to be commended for their undeniable ability as scholars. By using the tools of hard work and study, the thirteen young men and women pictured here have attained the first qualification for success. Their fine records of scholarship are more than worthy of your attention; thus, it is with humble pleasure and sincerity that we, the class of 1949, set aside this page as a small dedication to the honor students of 1948.

students and a beautiful May Queen.

MAY DAY

The annual May Day ceremony held at the Gypsy Glen Stadium on May 10, 1948 seemed to be the best presentation ever. To begin with, it was the first time it had ever been held on the appointed day; generally it is postponed several days because of weather conditions, but luck was with us this year.

The queen of the May was blonde Virginia Mae Figley. Her maid of honor was Julianne Cooper. The court was as follows: Jean Campbell, Yvonne Gardner, Janice Hanley, Jo Lees, Barbara Sohn, and Quinette Strouss. The flower girls were: Carol Ann Field, Sally Grant, Charlene Lewis, and Judith Wylie. Scepter bearer, Tommy Ensign; crown bearer, Alex Sebastian, and train bearers, Edwin Rowse, III and Scott Sankey. May Day was under the capable direction of Mrs. Mary Ellen Guilliams. Music was provided by our high school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Jack Brammer.

The beginning of the program was announced by the processional of the beautiful queen, her court was preceded by the colorful group of senior girls carrying large bouquets of flowers. Virginia Figley, the 1948 May Queen, was then crowned by her maid of honor, Judy Cooper.

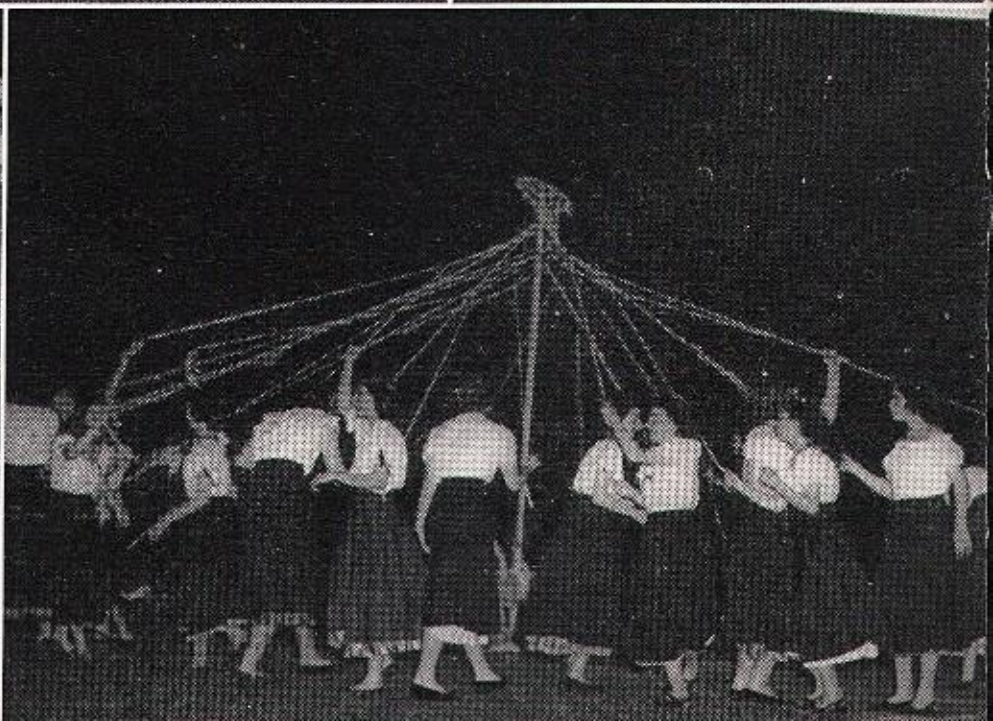

Then the fun was on. Crazy looking people called clowns came onto the field from all directions, tumbling as they came. They were bedecked in many different kinds of polka-dot and striped clown suits. These funny looking, red-faced clowns did a tumbling act. As soon as they tumbled off the field the Beaver High School band struck up an inspiring march while the smart looking majorettes paraded into the center of attraction. They performed with their batons and added a touch of originality to their actions. After such an active presentation, the students in the Blue Danube waltzed across the grass dressed in black ballerina skirts and white blouses. The band then changed the tempo of the waltz to that ever familiar "Turkey in the Straw" and the "hill billies" of Beaver High School ran out from the sides garbed in "jeans," bright plaid shirts, straw hats, gingham dresses and men's shoes. A very clever square dance was presented by this lively group. Again the tempo was changed to that of a march and a group of girls dressed in white sailor middies and blue shorts filed onto the open air stage and formed a circle. The feature of this group was flag twirling, which created a very nice effect.

This year for the first time in Beaver High School, the "Peer Gynt Suite" was interpreted. In this interpretation, Peer Gynt was a king of long ago who had been saddened by the death of his sweetheart. The first dance was Morning, the awakening of the forest. The king then called his dancing chorus to see if they could bring him cheer. The Arabian dance was interpreted with a solo by Sally Lou Jones. The impression it gave was really very wonderful. The king's favorite dancing girl Anitra, tried next to cheer him. Peggy Buckenheimer was the soloist in that beautiful part of the program. Peer Gynt, the king, played by Anne Miller, was then besieged by devils and goblins in "The Hall of the Mountain King." The devils were dressed in fiery red and the goblins in black. They surrounded the king and did a strange dance which slowly drove the king out of his mind.

The interpretation of Peer Gynt Suite was followed by the traditional Maypole dance. Although not the usual custom, peasant blouses and black ballerina skirts were worn this year instead of evening gowns. Plaid petticoats hung beneath the skirts and plaid bows were worn in the hair of the dancers.

The recessional concluded another beautiful May Day program of B. H. S.
